Shipping costs, October 2023

After the auction you will receive an invoice including shipping and packaging costs. Because of the large number of lots and buyers, this may take some time. Below you find an overview of the shipping and packaging costs.

Conditions:

- Zwiggelaar Auctions prepares your purchases for shipment: we pack your items carefully, we fill out your customs forms, we arrange shipments and we ship with T&T using either DPD or FedEx. Clients receive a tracking code by mail after the parcel is shipped.
- Zwiggelaar Auctions always assists clients regarding their shipment, but after we hand over the parcels(s) to the courier Zwiggelaar Auctions is not responsible for loss or any type of damage during transport.
- *Couriers – in our case DPD or FedEx – work with their own insurance policies. Zwiggelaar Auctions has no influence on these policies or the outcome of claims. Note: couriers (worldwide) refund a maximum of 60% of the hammer price in case of damage or missing parcels depending on its contents.

It is also possible to use your own courier. We will make sure the parcel is ready for pick-up.

The costs below are subject to change; if the shipment costs are higher than calculated below, we will inform and charge the additional amount to our client.
